Republican Nomination.

For President,
THEODORE ROOSEVELT,
of New York.
For Vice-President,
CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS,
of Indiana.
For Member of Congress,
CHARLES W. GILLET.

ONE OF the peculiarities noticeable in insane asylums is that every inmate always insists that he is "sane."

EVERY TIME Democratic platform makers yield to their desire to be honest, they endorse some Republican policy.

THE COUNTRY will not be slow in making its choice between Roosevelt and a Record and Parker and a Promise.

THE DEMOCRATIC plank on the Philippine question is an expression of regret that the American policy there has not been met by disaster.

THE REPUBLICAN party tells of the things it has done. The Democrats tell us what they will do if they get into power and don't go insane again.

THE REPUBLICAN motto, according to Speaker Cannon is "We Move On."
The best the Democrats can do is to inscribe their banners with "Safe, Sane and Sacred," and tag along in the rear.

HAVING DENOUNCED the adoption of the gold standard as the crime of the century the Democratic party now comes in and asks the privilege of being adjudged guilty as an accessory after the fact.

THE DEMOCRATIC party has entered a plea of "guilty" to the charge of having been unsafe and insane for at least eight years. It is not altogether satisfied with its present symptoms, but is more hopeful since it has taken the Republican gold cure.

THE ALBANY Argus says: "Judge Parker's level head is his own best platform." We hope the Argus does not mean to insinuate that the esteemed Judge is standing on his head or that his head is a wooden one.
What is the matter with the Democratic candidate's standing on his party's platform?

HAVING ADMITTED that their party was unsafe and insane in 1896 and 1900, the Democrats are now joining the chorus of rejoicing that their candidate was not successful in those years. Four years from now they will probably come forward professing to have been rehabilitated again and congratulating the country on having escaped the disaster of their success in 1904.

THE MEAT packers' strike was renewed at Chicago Thursday last, after it was thought a settlement had been reached and men who reported for work all marched out again. The reason given by the strikers is that that they were not all put to work at once and they also allege that in the selection of those who were offered the privilege of working, all the men active in their union were discriminated against. Each side now charges the other with bad faith and the breach seems wider than ever.

ON AUGUST 16th, 1854, the first Republican state convention ever held in New York state met at Saratoga Springs. It is the intention of the Republican state committee to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of this convention on the evening of the state convention, which will meet at Saratoga Springs, September 14th, by a reunion of all the surviving delegates to the convention of fifty years ago, and all who took a prominent part in the first gubernatorial and presidential campaign of the Republican party.

The Race Issue?

At the Republican National Convention the following plank was made a part of the platform:

"We favor such Congressional action as shall determine whether by special discriminations the elective franchise in any state has been unconstitutionally limited, and if such is the case we demand that representation in Congress and in the Electoral College shall be proportionally reduced, as directed by the Constitution of the United States.

At once a howl went up and the Democratic party, which is controlled by and tied up to the Solid South by its bunch of electoral votes which go the same way every time, no matter what the issues or the character of the candidates, replied in its platform by stating:

"To revive the dead and hateful race and sectional animosities in any part of our common country means confusion, distraction of business and the reopening of wounds now happily healed."

The Democratic statement is vague of course, but there is little doubt of the intention to rouse the very animosities which it seemingly decries.
The Republican plank is a simple, plain declaration in favor of enforcing a mandatory provision of the Constitution of the United States which says:

"When the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice President of the United States representatives in Congress, the executive and judicial officers of a state, or the members of the legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such a state, being twenty one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein (in the House of Representatives) shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such state."

Why should any Democrat protest.
If the Constitution is not being violated in any state, the Congressional action demanded by the Republican party can have no effect. If the Constitution is being violated in any state, the Democracy, which claims to be the special protector of our fundamental law and the great and only constitutional party in this country, should join heartily in the effort to carry out the Constitutional provision quoted above.

Of course it is well known that the negro vote is suppressed in the South, and that if the action favored by the Republicans is taken the electoral vote of the Southern states may be greatly reduced. These votes all go to the Democracy and have ever since the Civil War. Hence the howl about the race issue. It is purely selfish and that is all there is to it. The Democracy cares nothing about the constitution when its own interests are at stake.

Russian Naval Activity.

The daily papers are full of suggestions as to the probability of this or that power becoming involved in the war between Russia and Japan. Of course such a possibility exists but the danger is not nearly so imminent as the size and blackness of the headlines indicate. War rumors were thick for a few days last week owing to the action of Russian vessels in the Red sea insisting on the right to search neutral vessels and one English ship whose captain refused to show his papers was actually seized as a prize. At this the press and people of Great Britain went fairly wild and there was actual danger that the war spirit among the people might force the government into a conflict with Russia. The diplomatic representatives of the two countries, however, met in a most friendly way and the matter was quietly settled by the release of the prize vessel. It is also understood that an understanding was reached which will probably prevent any decided friction in the future. Russia practically backed down in this incident either from fear of the powerful British navy or in recognition of the fact that the position taken by her naval representatives was entirely untenable. Now another cause for apprehension has risen. The Russian squadron which has been held in the harbor of Vladi-vostok almost continuously since the war broke out, has made a dash into the Pacific ocean and is holding up merchant ships bound for Japanese and Chinese ports. Sunday, the Knight Commander, flying the British flag and carrying an American cargo, was seized, her crew taken off, and the vessel sunk. Other ships have also been overhauled and American shipping is threatened. It is probable, however, that Russia will be pretty careful to observe the well known principles of international law and custom in exercising her undoubted right to search any vessels on the high seas while she is carrying on war. If this course is followed consistently there will be no fear of other nations being involved in the contest through the recent spurt of naval activity on the part of the Russians, which seems to be confined to dodging the Japanese war ships and holding up merchant vessels which have no means of defense or offense.

A new telephone line is to be established between Lodi and Valois.

At the annual school meeting to be held at Lodi in August, the taxpayers will vote on a proposition to place the free union school of that place under the consolidated school law.

Torbert's large bean elevator at Interlaken was burned to the ground Saturday night, with all its contents.
The total loss is about $10,000 which is nearly covered by insurance.

Interlaken has a neat souvenir postal card which was issued by A.
D. Chadwick. It contains a fine view of Cayuga lake looking from the Morehouse landing, with a rustic background and pictures of Indian's head, shield, spear and calumet.

Stephen Fitzsimmons, Jr., as administrator of the estate of Stephen Fitzsimmons, Sr., late of Romulus, has commenced an action against the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company.
The action is based upon an accident that occurred May 26th, 1903, by which Mr. Fitzsimmons was instantly killed. The Black Diamond express on that date struck a wagon in which deceased was riding, near Hayts Corners, throwing him more than one hundred feet.

The family of Hawes, or Haws as it is quite as often spelled, is one of the few in our country which have a matter of record genealogy extending far back in the centuries.

Through the efforts of Alfred B. Hause of Ovid and Dr. James P. Hawes of Valois the family line has been carried back to 1690 when the John Hause to whom they trace was an infant born in Germany and cousin of Queen Mary of Great Britain. In 1715 this John Hause married, in New York City, Sarah Allen and from that union the present Hawses are descended. All down the generations the families have been large—not unusually twelve or fourteen children and as a consequence the Hawses have multiplied on the face of the earth. They seem to have been also upright and God fearing people and Dr. Hawes laughingly remarked that the most discreditable affair he found hanging on the family tree was one elopement. The Doctor has had the genealogy of the Western New York branch put in print for distribution among his kinsfolk of the name—Watkins Express.
